

Module #1 - Test 1B

Name _____ Date _____

1. The theory is that if a woman feels secure and supported she _____

2. Our job is not to assume the worst of her and influence her toward our agenda, but rather _____

3. We must be proactive about providing her information about all her options so that _____

4. Our perception of women facing an unplanned pregnancy as people who WANT to have abortions needs to change to understanding _____

5. Our belief is that given all the information and support, most women will _____

Patient Centered:

6. The nature of a patient-centered approach is “non-directive,” meaning the counselor does not have _____

7. A directed plan (problem-centered approach) to get specific information into the person facing the problem is _____ of the definition of the patient-centered approach.
8. Based on research, the essential reason women feel abortion is such a hard choice is because _____

9. They are desperate for data and a clear understanding of the _____ Problem Centered:

10. The primary mode of operation in a problem centered approach is the delivery of information and services in a _____
a. The primary assumption being that a women _____

11. The problem centered approach produces a focused response to a specific problem which does two things:
a. _____

b. _____

12. The three basic questions every woman needs to have answered BEFORE she determines the outcome of her pregnancy:
a. _____
b. _____
c. _____